Decisive Announces Agreement with RouteOne®

Decisive announced today that it has entered into an agreement with RouteOne to develop specialized software for use in the automobile finance industry. "DocPerfecter" will offer dealers the rapid delivery of critical information required to complete certain customer transactions. Additionally, it will create accurate and consistent documents for dealer and consumer use. The DocPerfecter tool is an expansion of Decisive's ResidualExpress®, a web-based service used in the auto lease and balloon loan industries.

Decisive's agreement with RouteOne is Decisive's the first such arrangement, and Decisive expects this effort to accelerate the expansion of its origination, analytics, and specialty software businesses. Decisive has provided software, expertise and other services for use by auto finance industry companies since 2004.
